

Co-curricular Activities of the Department of English

- The Department has its own Literary Clubs such as English Study Circle and ‘Discourse’ which promote academic and research activities through discussions and publications.
- Apart from academic activities, it also promotes co-curricular activities for students’ participation, encouragement and personality and skill development by organizing quiz competition, poster competition, poetry recitation program, elocution, essay writing, story writing, debates on literary and social topics, creative writing competition, etc.
- Students of the Department are also encouraged and motivated for conducting co-curricular activities such as Fresher Party, Farewell Party and Teachers’ day Program. Students also organize seminars on their own initiative and invite guest speakers from various reputed universities and institutions.
- To promote research interest and activities among the research scholars, the Department runs a Research Forum which engages the faculty members, invited experts and research scholars for discussions on their research theses.